[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 25.

EASTERN STATES.

The North Carolina Outlawed.

NEW YORK, March 24.—A dispatch from Wilmington, North Carolina, gives a rumor that the Lowry gang have been captured by the Herald correspondent.

Attack on R. R. Trains.

ST. LOUIS, March 24.—Trains on the Belleville and Southern Illinois Railroad have been stoned lately and the lives of passengers endangered by a gang of scoundrels near Pickneyville. On Thursday night last, two men were arrested in the act, and on being searched by the City Marshal, one of them stabbed him, inflicting a wound three inches long, whereupon the Marshal shot the desperado dead.

Isaac Cady, for over forty years a prominent iron manufacturer of this city died here to-day.

Suicide of a Murderer.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 24.—Stough, the wife murderer, committed suicide in jail at Richmond, Kentucky, last Monday, by hanging himself to the top bar of the door of his cell with a rope made of a towel and two pocket handkerchiefs. He left a letter to his children, saying that his had already brought shame enough on his family and would not add to it the ignominy of a public execution. He said his wife had done him an irreparable injury and deserved the death she met at his hands.

Fire at Rockland, Maine.

BANGOR, March 24.—A fire in Rockland last night destroyed Berry's block, corner of Main and Lime Rock streets, and the adjoining block, including the Lime Rock Bank, express office, Western Union telegraph office and several other offices.

The heaviest snow storm of the season occurred last night. The roads are badly blocked.

More about Tammany.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Councillor Strahan testified yesterday before the Judiciary Committee that, after the papers were drawn up in the celebrated injunction suit against his Tammany associates, he decided that if any man had the boldness to act judicially in the matter, it was Barnard. Judge Barnard, on being applied to, accordingly granted an injunction, causing the present Judge, Barrett, to remark that it was something he would not have done if he were Judge. The injunction entirely stopped the city government and broke up the Ring. No modification was made of this injunction except upon recommendation of Comptroller Green. Judge Barnard gets valuable aid to the committee, and made the injunction still stronger.

Jay Gould testified that he never paid any money to Judge Barnard.

J. P. Bushnell, of the Union Pacific Railway, testified that the late Colonel Fisk told him that he never received the amount of $50,000 paid by the Union Pacific Railroad Company to ex-Judge Fullerton. It will be remembered that Fullerton ... the other day that he paid the money to Fisk. The committee is now anxious to know where the money went to.

No testimony of interest was adduced before the committee regarding the County Clerk's office. Some lawyers said they had no knowledge of any abuse. The County Clerk in his testimony stated that he had not more than $25,000.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Miscellaneous News.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The small pox here is decreasing.

The Custom House Commissioners have only four or five witnesses remaining to be examined. Probably they will next call witnesses on the San Domingo subject. General Babcock is the only witness who has been examined. He knew of no corrupt influence having been used to promote ...ance him.

The House Committee on Expenditures of the War Department have nearly concluded the examination of the ...al arms.

But little interest is now expressed relative to the Alabama claims. Some of those who were strong friends of the treaty, now say they are indifferent as to whether or not its provisions are carried into effect. There seems to be no disposition in any quarter to yield to the British view of the question.

Vice President Colfax made a temperance speech at Lincoln Hall to night to a large audience.

The military officers of the Japanese Embassy visited the signal office last night and had the workings of that branch explained to them.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Queen Victoria Goes to Berlin.

LONDON, March 24.—The Queen departed this morning for Berlin, via Paris. A dispatch from Cherbourg announces her arrival this afternoon. A special train was waiting, on which the Queen and suite embarked for Paris, where it is expected that the royal party will arrive at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. The Queen will politely decline to meet Thiers, and continue her journey to Berlin as privately as possible.

A meeting was held in Cork last night to denounce the International Society. The proceedings were disorderly.

The Alabama Claims.

LONDON, March 24.—The Observer says of the second note of Lord Granville in regard to the Alabama claims that it is most friendly and conciliatory in tone, but states expressly that England is unable to submit to indirect claims to the Board of Arbitrators at Geneva. The Observer states that the dispatch is very lengthy.

Duel at Paris.

PARIS, March 24.—A duel was fought yesterday between Rogal, of the Pays newspaper, and Richardel, of the Cursair. The latter was wounded in the chest.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—To arrive, overland this evening, J. B. Sloan, Eugene City.

POLK COUNTY'S O.K.—The Dallas Republican has this:

Portland has her "corpse that Mitchell bought," for a sensation, and Polk now has on hand that ox which the County Court bought. It will be remembered that the bridge across the Kirkreal fell a short time since with a team belonging to E. J. Halleck. Mr. H. was damaged to the amount of $150. He presented his claim to the County Court, when they allowed it, with the understanding that the ox was to belong to them. Of course ... could not appropriate public property to private use, and the question is, what will they do with it? The matter has been under advisement, and the probabilities are now that the ox will be turned into the Court House yard and fattened for the next Democratic barbecue. As this ox belongs to the county, it is of course certain that the Republicans, as well as the Democrats, will "have a bone to pick."

A morbid craving for the sensational is one of the distinguishing characteristics of the present age. So thoroughly does it pervade the world that even science seems to have at length been brought under its influence—which is illustrated in a prophecy recently uttered by a Geneva astronomer, Professor Plantamour, to the effect that the earth is to be crushed by a huge comet at 4 o'clock, P. M., Greenwich time, on the 12th of August, next. This thrilling prediction has already given rise to profuse discussion among the European magazines and reviews, and advices from across the Atlantic inform us that the people take it so much to heart, that even the undertakers cannot afford to be jolly over it.

Senator Morton will submit a new amnesty bill at once. It is proposed to except by its provisions all who left the army and navy and the Congress of the United States to join the rebellion. All others to have amnesty. This is just as far as amnesty should go.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

New York News.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A Baltimore dispatch says that the ecclesiastical investigation of the charges against Rev. Mr. Huston for alleged immorality will begin this week.

At a meeting held by the Internationals, yesterday, a letter was read from Morbile, Switzerland, stating that 257 glass blowers were discharged because they belonged to that society, and employers have formed a league against the Internationals. This had aroused a deep feeling in France, Germany and Italy. One of the speakers announced that he was discharged from his position as foreman in a lithographic artist establishment for participating in an International banquet last Monday, and subsequently the whole force, 25 men, quit in consequence of his discharge. The Toronto printers sent in a request to be permitted to join the organization. They also ask aid in their projected strike. One speaker deprecated the policy of making a political thing out of the organization.

Cable dispatches from Belgium render it probable that startling disclosures will soon be made in the case of Vogt, the alleged murderer of Count Bianco. Vogt's real name is suspected to be Carl Stupp, and a woman passing for his wife is thought to have been the mistress of the murdered man. Both Stupp and the Count's mistress disappeared shortly after the murder. Relatives of the Count are now on their way across the Atlantic to identify Vogt.

A protectorate for Mexico meets with favor from President Grant. He would urgently support it if initiated under Congressional auspices.

Suicide by a Young Lady.

DETROIT, March 25.—A young lady who arrived at the Franklin House in this city Friday, and registered herself as Miss Fannie Tyler, of Quincy, committed suicide last night by taking arsenic.

Fires.

At Hagerstown, Maryland, the building and stock of the Washington Leather Manufacturing Company was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss, $70,000; insurance, $40,000.

The machine shop at Grippen Minister, Michigan, burned last night. Loss, $12,000; insurance, $6,000.

Shooting Affray at Springfield, Illinois.

CHICAGO, March 25.—At Springfield, Illinois, on Saturday night last, Edward Duff and H. Stoy got into a scuffle in a saloon, when Duff was thrown on the floor. Rising he drew a revolver and shot Stoy dead. He fired another shot at the saloon-keeper, wounding him, and walked coolly away. He has not yet been arrested.

It has been raining here since midnight last night, but not heavily. The country is suffering from drought. Thousands of wells and cisterns are dry.

California vegetables, cauliflower and asparagus, are plenty in this market and dear.

WASHINGTON CITY.

More of the Alabama Claims Negotiations.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A Washington dispatch says Minister Schenck telegraphs Earl Granville's notes to Secretary Fish. He argues the Alabama claims elaborately, but gives no idea of what is contains in the absence of its information. The Administration advances no theory as to the result of the negotiations. The impression is that Granville and Fish look upon them as a great pacificator.

The State Department sent to American agents and consulates, a day or two ago, a printed statement of private claims against England on account of rebel privateers and of claims for direct and actual losses, amounting to about nineteen millions; about six millions more are charged for detention of vessels, loss of prospective freights and mercantile profits, with other consequent ...

CHICAGO, March 25.—A Times Washington special says Secretary Fish sent to Madrid a vigorous dispatch upon the case of Dr. Howard, an American citizen, just transported to a Spanish penal colony for participation in the Cuban rebellion.

Our Consul General at Havana has made representations of hardship and injustice in Howard's case, and it is expected that the action of this Government will induce his prompt release, on condition that he leaves Cuba for the United States. A Havana correspondent speaks of Dr. Howard as demagogically reflecting upon the Spanish Government. It appears that Howard got 8 years' penal servitude on the testimony of an implicated party that he gave aid to the insurgents. The informer subsequently admitted that his charges were groundless.

The case of Captain Stevens of the Navy, recently court-martialed for neglect of duty, while in command of the U. S. steamer Guerriere, will be disposed of Monday. It is understood that sentence will not extend to dismissal.

A Tribune Washington dispatch says Secretary Robeson decided not to have counsel during his investigation, but to allow matters to take their own course, not doubting he will be able to refute all charges against his administration. Among the witnesses whom Dana has requested to be summoned, are Assistant Secretary Fox, ex-Controller Broadhead, Chief Engineer King, Chief Naval Constructor Lenthal, William H. Smith, Chief Clerk of Bureau of Steam Engineering, and other Bureau officials of the Department.

It is rumored that under the new law the Directors of a number of mines beside the Savage, which have hitherto been controlled in the interest of single corporations, will be ousted and men appointed by the present holders of a majority of the stock will be elected in their places. The tendency appears to stiffen the market, and draw in outside capital in the purchase of stocks in productiveness which have not hitherto paid dividends to any extent. The market appears to be stronger. The new revenue bill is likely to thoroughly disarrange the financial matters of the city, and the supplemental bill is to allow the city to issue bonds to enable it to tide over the interval between ordinary time for collecting the taxes and the date fixed. The new law will afford only partial relief, as the bonds will run for 40 short a time that they will be sought for by capitalists as an investment at anything like ordinary interest.

The trial of Murray and Dickson for rape on Catherine O'Hara will probably be finished to-morrow. Evidence for the prosecution is already all in to-day. Napthalie, reporter for the Bulletin, testified in positive terms to the confession of Dickson that he made the assault complained of in the carriage, but under a misapprehension as to the character of the girl.

The Supervisors are holding a special meeting, called this morning by the Mayor, to consider what action can be taken to relieve the city from the financial embarrassment which will be caused by the new State revenue law.

Fatal Shooting Affray at Boone's Ferry.

OREGON CITY, March 25.—Jesse V. Boone of Clackamas county, was shot fatally to day, about 9 o'clock A. M., by Jacob Ingle, on the premises of the deceased, near Boone's ferry landing. The dispute arose about the division of some sheep. Boone died in a few minutes after he was shot. Ingle is now a prisoner in charge of Sheriff Warner.

Nast, in a recent Harper's Weekly, has a magnificent political cartoon, representing the President calmly smoking in his easy chair, which sits firmly on a stone platform. Upon this platform are printed significant extracts from the President's message of Dec. 4th, 1871. Flatulent bolting Senators, are "blowing" with distended cheeks at Grant, but vainly, for planted firmly on the record of his message, the significant comment is made by the artist. "What the Senatorial cabal can not blow over."

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

The Labor Reform ticket is commonly called the kangaroo ticket, because all of its strength lies in its hind legs.

John Tyler, Jr., a son of ex-President Tyler, has written a long and interesting article, predicting the triumph and perpetuity of the Republican party.

The Irish Republic advises the Irish Republicans to stand by Grant, as the fairest and kindest man to all races that ever sat in the Presidential chair.

A St. Louis paper says: "Every one foretells tremendous floods in the Missouri valley this spring. The snow is heavier at the sources than for many years past, and when the flood comes it will be a grand one." It may be expected that the Columbia will be equally high.

The Chicago Times thinks that the nomination of Judge Davis by the squad of oratorical resolutionary laborers at Columbus "has created a profound public sensation." About as profound sensation, we should say, as the nomination of Fremont in the same State in 1864.

An editorial article in the Chicago Tribune of the 7th, estimates the total losses by the great fire at $190,000,000, and the total insurances at $90,000,000. Of this amount the solvent companies have paid over $40,000,000, and the insolvent companies in liquidation may increase the amount to $50,000,000.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat says Trumbull has recommended the appointment of one hundred and three candidates for Federal offices since March 4, 1869; Schurz one hundred and seven; Tipton over ninety, and Fenton nearly two hundred and fifty. Greeley also confesses that he broke with the administration only when he found that he was not potential as an office-broker.

There was much fun for the Republicans in the Yamhill Democratic Convention last Saturday. The out-and-outers tried to adopt their platform of two years ago, but failed. Indicating a "new departure" by the Democracy of Yamhill.

Speaking of the roads, the Roseburg Plaindealer of the 22d says: "The roads must mend now. Everybody says they are as bad as can be. The stages stick in the mire every day, and the passengers generally get into town an hour or two in advance of it."

A correspondent at Lafayette writes that there was much excitement at that place on Saturday over the arrival of Ben Holladay and General Superintendent Thielsen, the burghers wishing to know where the route of the road will be and where it will cross the Yamhill river.

The Statesman of Sunday says: "We hear there was a fuss at ... among the Democracy of Clackamas county yesterday. The County Convention nominated John Myers for State Senator and two candidates for Representatives, and some of the old stand-bys were on the war-path."

The Canal and Locks

The Farmer has an article on the Canal and Locks at Oregon City which contains many good and practical suggestions It thinks that the company engaged in constructing these works will want some additional legislation next fall and it demands that in case such legislation is asked the law making power shall impose such restrictions and regulations on the Canal and Locks as will make it what it ought to be a ready, convenient impartial and cheap highway for the boats of every man who will choose to put boats on the river Otherwise combinations can be formed by the Locks Company with other routes of transportation and the works which the people have paid for will do them no good The Farmer condemns the present law which gives the people s school money to this Locks Company says it contains no restrictions worthy of the name and is 'a shame and a fraud upon the public This is all true, as we have shown over and over again

But though we strenuously opposed the grant of the "people s school money" for this or any other similar purpose and though we specially condemned the profligate favoritism whereby a bonus of seventy-five thousand dollars was given and that large sum utterly wasted yet now that the enterprise is under way we are anxious, and the whole people of the Willamet valley are anxious to see it pushed forward to completion It may become a work of great utility and value But it is literally true that the act as it now stands secures nothing to the people The sum of two hundred thousand dollars taken from the school fund in violation of the fundamental law has been given for this work and the people are now and have for nearly two years been, paying out of their Treasury fourteen thousand dollars com per annum for interest on these bonds If the Company can complete the Locks with what has been granted them, well and good, but let there be a resolute determination to give them no more money.

These works are being constructed at the people's cost, and the people through their Legislature should have a right to control their operation The railroads are on a somewhat different footing They have been built without costing Oregon a dollar No money has been taken from the Treasury to build them or to pay interest on their account The State's educational fund has not been seized or plundered for their b fit They are incorporated under a law which expressly gives them a right to prescribe their own rates for transportation. The law in this particular may be imperfect, but the roads, being built without cost to the public, have a legal right to what is "incorporated in the bond," and will be able to maintain it But the Locks are to be built with money, principal and interest, taken directly from the pockets of the people, and should be controlled entirely in the public interest

While, therefore, the completion of this work is very desirable and no obstacle should be thrown in the way of it, yet no additional money should be granted, and if further legislation is asked additional restrictions should be required.

Sound Principles

Both branches of Congress have declared in favor of putting tea and coffee on the free list. This is in accord with sound policy. Tea and coffee are articles of universal consumption. They are not produced in this country, and to let them free of duty interferes with no domestic industry. But such a measure does not please the free traders They want a policy which is the reverse of all sound principles. They insist on a heavy duty on articles that this country does not produce, and free trade in articles produced or manufactured here. Hence they clamor for the removal of the salt duty, but insist on maintaining the duty at a high rate on coffee and tea They tell us that the salt duty is oppressive, but think the duty on coffee and tea quite right. Such a policy would break down all industry in the United States and impoverish the country. We are not protecting our own labor and capital when we impose a duty on coffee and tea, but are increasing their price to consumers, because there can be no competition in their production But when we lay a duty on salt, iron, and woolens, we are protecting our industry and establishing the foundations of industrial prosperity

Tammany's Plasterer.

New York papers state that the consternation produced among the Tammany Democrats by the testimony of Garvey, the plasterer, is intense The stupendousness and infamousness of the robberies which this gang has been carrying on can be inferred from the following extract from Garvey s testimony

There was $50,000 for Mr Tweed and the Albany Legislature. This arrangement of ours was nearly all settled before we made out any bills at all. The bills I received had my average proportion of the money in them I claimed for work in the Court House and Armories $344,660, there was due from others that I was expected to square on my bills $126,000, I added $50,000 for myself as expenses for political purposes for the fall, making in all $395 000 which I expected to get paid. I made out this $41,699 bill with a view to its carrying a presumed proportion in ratio to the others It is supposed to be distributed equally over all the bills I got paid I believe I received $397 000, and this was one of the bills thus made out

These were only part of the operations of one of the inferior agents of the ring Ingersoll, Woodward and others carried their transactions up into millions It is not to be forgotten that this was Democracy whose the Democratic party had everything its own way and its best opportunity to work out such results as were most natural to it

Senator Corbett, ever alive to the interests of Oregon has addressed a letter to the Commissioner of the General Land Office asking him to increase his estimate for surveys in Oregon for the present year to $75,000, also that in the timbered districts west of the Cascade mountains $16 a mile may be allowed for township and section lines The Commissioner referred the matter to the Secretary of the Interior, who concurred in asking an appropriation of $70 000, and transmitted the estimate to the Speaker of the House of Representatives

Two years ago the Herald was clamoring for the extension of the west side land grant to the head of the Wallamet Valley. It sneered at and derided the grant to the Yamhill river and said it was a bobtail boomerang railroad,' But now it sees things differently and declares that the proposition to extend the grant is all wrong and an act of subservience to the railroad magnate If there is one thing that the Herald can be more absurd upon than another it is the railroad question

The Northern Pacific Railroad and the Snow Question

W W Milnor Roberts the distinguished Chief Engineer of the Northern Pacific Railroad has made a statement regarding the snow problem on the Northern route which has special interest just now Mr Roberts spent the winter of 1870 71 along the western section of the Northern Pacific line in Oregon and Washington Territory, the early part of the present winter in Western Montana, near the highest elevation of the route and has since been on the eastern portion of the road through Montana Besides this personal inspection he has been in constant communication with surveying and construction parties and with Government officials on various parts of the line His statement, which was made in answer to certain definite questions, is as follows

REPORT

120 Broadway New York
March 2 1872

The only points on the Northern Pacific route where in the absence of ordinary precautions there would be reason to anticipate occasional difficulty from snow are at and near the Bozeman Pass in Montana and toward the western part of Minnesota As to the necessity for unusual precautions against snow if the route via the Yellowstone Valley Deer Lodge Pass Clark s Fork and Columbia river be adopted I do not apprehend that any would be needed

The present winter is a remarkable one almost everywhere, but it is my opinion that with well constructed fences at the most exposed points, the Northern Pacific Railroad can unquestionably be kept open for regular traffic in its entire length across the continent through similar winters hereafter should they occur Our road from Duluth to Oak Lake (about 200 miles) has been free most of the way this winter without snow fences, and the Lake Superior and the Mississippi and the St Paul and Pacific roads in Minnesota have had comparatively little trouble from snow This winter A few miles of snow fences will render our line from Lake Superior to the Missouri river as free of snow obstructions as the line from Chicago to Omaha Even in the Rocky Mountains in Montana the thermometer from January 8th to the 14th, in the middle of the day ranged from 37 deg above zero to 48 deg above, except the 12th when it was 30 deg above From January 15th to the 21st, the range was from 15 deg to 37 deg above, from January 29th to February 12th the range was from 2 deg to 14 deg above—average, 42 5 deg The first snow storms of the present winter came in the Rocky Mountain region of Montana unusually early (in November and December), were accompanied by unusually cold weather and were regarded by the oldest settlers as very remarkable. Most of winters cattle range through the valleys of this region without difficulty, and are unusually later in spring than when turned out on the approach of winter—feeding on the nutritious bunch grass At Helena, in the mountains during the severe weather referred to the lowest thermometer was about thirty degrees below zero, and from twenty to thirty below in the vicinity of the Bozeman summit But such low temperature only occurred for a few days as witness the high range of the thermometer from January 8th to February 18th. My latest information from the mountain sections of our line is a report from Assistant Engineer J W Flanniken, dated at Helena February 12th, and fully corroborated by letters from residents of other portions of Montana, dated the 19th From the former I make the following extract

"I have not heard of any very serious snows on any of our lines The Jefferson has but very little on it Major Pease, who just arrived here from the Crow Agency, says that between the Agency and the divide there is but little snow. Between Forts Shaw and Benton it has disappeared altogether In the Bitter Root and Missoula valleys there has been none of any account. So far as I can learn, the snow would not have delayed trains more than one day had they been running My opinion of the danger of deep snows and frequent drifts is, that at no time will the Northern Pacific Railroad have to encounter anything resembling the trouble and vexation that the Union Pacific is suffering The wagon road between here and Deer Lodge, the highest elevation on our line, has been open and in good condition ever since it was first broken

Mr. Sparks, just returned from the Musselshell Valley, where his stock has been during the winter, says the snow has been very light, and the cattle have had no difficulty in getting plenty of grass the entire time"

These very favorable reports during a winter of unprecedented severity over the most elevated and mountainous portions of our line where obstructions from snow would occur if anywhere on the route and when it is remembered that the obstructions on the Union Pacific have been virtually confined to a section of 180 miles, every part of which is at least 1,000 feet higher than the highest summit on the northern route, and most of which is 2,500 to 3,000 feet higher than the mountain section of equal length on the Northern Pacific line, it becomes perfectly safe to predict for the latter as complete exemption from winter blockade as is enjoyed by railroads in New York and New England The valley route and sheltered position of the Northern Pacific road through Montana prevents to a great extent, that consistent drifting of what snow there is, which characterizes more elevated routes, and which has been the chief source of difficulty on the Union Pacific

W MILNOR ROBERTS,
Chief Engineer Northern Pacific Railroad

The Farmer (Salem) seems to hold to the view of the Herald that rates of transportation on our rivers and railroads, and by sea to San Francisco, can be regulated by our Legislative Assembly If the Farmer will thoroughly examine the subject it will certainly reverse this opinion It is just as well to be right, when one takes a position, and we should be sorry to think that the Farmer would knowingly deal in shams and clap traps

Our good neighbor of the Democratic organ thinks he can t afford to venture a reply to the articles in which we have exposed the largess sions of his party and its leading organ on railroad questions This is prudent Our neighbor doesn't answer because he isn t able to answer The record is too clear the case is too plain against him

About the Deadly Upas Tree —When Marco Polo Mungo Park and the great early navigators returned home from the strange countries which they had visited they came back with very strange stories of things they had seen The inquiring and ignorant popular mind was glad enough to accept without hesitation, the mythical narratives of those old worthies and the more dreadful the stories the more eagerly were they seized upon and transferred to the literature of the times Legends and tradition became so intricately mixed up with fact that it was impossible to discriminate between the true and the false Among these myths of centuries was one which held out longer than the others and which, indeed may still be said to have its believers This is the famous death-distributing Upas tree of Java under whose spreading branches the lively imagination has often pictured the bones and skelotons of countless victims who have fallen beneath its deadly influence A writer who has visited a similar tree in Borneo, gives some account of the Upas tree as he found it Instead of seeing it surrounded by an arid plain, the approach that led to it was grassy and green with verdure and bright with flowers The trunk of the tree was girded round with creeping vines and many colored parasites, that wound their way from the ground to the top most branches This writer states that the people of the island bury their dead near these trees—a fact that doubtless accounts for the wonderful stories of the early travelers As a work of nature the Upas tree is deserving of recognition Its girth of trunk is immense, and its branches are lofty and spreading But there its wonders cease and as a phenomenon it must be consigned to that cabinet of exploded superstitions which already contains the kraaken the maelstrom and the mermaids with their golden harps

The Modesty of Wisdom

The story sent from the sea by Agassiz concerning the queer fish that launches its home-made cradle and its young to sink or swim together, reminds me of my first interview with that enthusiastic solver of nature's puzzles It was on board a Hudson river steamer just twenty years ago that I put both my ears at the service of Agassiz He did all the talking, and I listened for two hours to the stories he told about the wonderful things he had seen Never was narrative more picturesque It sparkled with wit, and was as profound as an abyss in the Alps It was conversational, and it was learned It was the epitome of 40 years of diligent study minute observation and tireless energy Agassiz has just completed his survey of the Florida reefs, a delicate and difficult service which had been undertaken for the purpose of discovering the methods of the coral family He found the members of that family at home, busily engaged in their domestic avocations, and introducing himself without a moment's hesitation he became the supervisor of their house-building operations The little creatures, not so big as atomies revealed themselves to him as they never were before were revealed to mortal man He spoiled his garments by wading about among the foundations of the coraline structures, and he used up microscopes and note books without number, but in the end he found what he wanted came to the North with his budget of wonders, and hied to Albany early in the following summer to lay the results before the American Association for the advancement of science Requested to give a newspaper correspondent the substance of his story in advance of publication Agassiz good naturedly consented and that was the way in which I came to hear what he had to say Agassiz was in the prime of life—a handsome man of forty with well rounded figure and easy carriage and a voice which was all the more musical because the words were a mixture of French and English

"I have seen ze coral in his house said Agassiz I have watched him at ze wonderful work he does and zere is nothing more wonderful than ze reefs zat he builds on ze Florida coast etc

Presently a listener ventured a compliment to the Professor upon the extent and variety of his investigations into the secrets of nature to which his ready and modest reply was

"My dear sir ze longer I live, ze more I find I know nothing"

That was the point I wanted to bring out when I began to speak of Agassiz,

The charming modesty of the man is beyond all praise He has not lost this virtue now that he has turned sixty and is full of honors and fame Once when toasted at Erastus Corning s house at Albany he blushed like a girl at the compliment bestowed upon him—and I have no doubt that when the Hassler returns from her cruise and Agassiz is again dined and wined by admiring friends his cheek will once more take the color of the rose Commercial Advertiser

The Coalition Against Grant

[From the Pittsburgh Commercial]

The coalition now on foot proceeds on the fact that the Republican party with General Grant as its nominee is stronger than any single political organization in the country and will assuredly succeed unless all the elements of opposition to it and him are consolidated. Indeed it goes further in the implied admission of Republican strength and seeks to unite in opposition all now otherwise friendly who value the success of labor reform free trade, or some other principle or result But what affinity is there between labor reform and free trade or between labor reformer and a Southern and many Northern Democrats? The very statements of the thing proposed shows its utter impracticability Democrats will not do violence to party faith and traditions at the behest of any leader Liberal Republicans will find as good a friend of amnesty and civil service reform in General Grant as in Judge Davis or any coalition candidate, and labor reformers Republican in principle will have difficulty in discovering how their cause can be promoted by the defeat of General Grant. The result will be that the coalition leaders will find that they cannot carry with them the parties they affect to represent and the Republican party will be stronger against the coalition than it would be against the Democratic party alone which now confesses its weakness. The strength of the Republican party is unabated and General Grant will be as strong if not stronger than the party

AMUSEMENTS.

PARTIES —Our festive reporter, who is a devotee of the art terpsichore, had his hands full last evening. At Philharmonic Hall the First Ladies' Hebrew Benevolent Society had that place beautifully arranged, the occasion being their grand Calico Ball, which proved a success in every particular. Some sixty couple—the elite of the city—participated in the many dances to excellent music Judging from the enjoyment derived by those attending, a repetition is desired

At Armory Hall the Portland Social Club entertained their friends This was also a calico ball, and was largely attended, Every one present seemed highly pleased with the way things were going on The entire East Portland Band discoursed music for the occasion.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by Baker Post, G. A. R.

WHEREAS, By ... relations "eternal" of the ... val of our esteemed Comrade C P Crandall from our city, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we congratulate the Comrades of Russell Post No 3, upon the acquisition of Comrade Crandall as a Comrade of their Post, we ... d to him our tenderest regards and kindest wishes for his future prosperity and welfare, assuring him that though removed from our midst, none of those ties that have so long linked us together in fraternal bands, will be weakened

Resolved, That in appreciation of the past labors and services of Comrade Crandall, we will ever bear in grateful remembrance his zeal, faithfulness and gentlemanly urbanity and inestimable worth as a Comrade

Resolved, That while it is with feelings of deep regret, we give to Comrade Crandall the parting hand, his Comrades of Baker Post say with all kindness and human heartiness, "God speed" to him in all his undertakings

FIRE—NATION'S BRASS FOUNDRY BURNED —Last night at 12 o'clock the fire bells sounded an alarm of fire, the first since the 17th inst The different companies, with their machines, promptly responded to the call, and each with all possible haste repaired to the scene of the conflagration. Owing to the remote location of the fire, when the engines reached the building it was too late to save anything Upon inquiry we learned that the building was owned, used and occupied as a brass foundry by Messrs Nation & Belknap Everything which fire could affect was destroyed, leaving nothing but the metal of which most of the tools and machines were made There was in the establishment three lathes, a punch, owned by W Weisel for punching legal paper fasteners, valued at $150, one engine, a large number of patters, the necessary flasks for casting purposes, a large amount of finished work and considerable raw material. Engines No 2 and 3 united their hose and attached it to a hydrant, by which means some fencing adjoining was saved Mr Nation did not know what the actual loss would approximate, but thought $5 000 would cover it The foundry was located on G street, between Third and Fourth No insurance

THE ALMATIA —This bark will complete her cargo to day, and will probably depart hence for San Francisco to-morrow

A REMARKABLE CURE OF PALSY

WM BUDEN A STOCK RAISER OF WILLOW CREEK WASCO CO WAS ON LAST THE USE OF HIS LEFT ARM BY PALSY WAS CURED IN TEN MINUTES BY DR. AUBURN CORNER THIRD AND MORRISON STREETS PORTLAND

To the Afflicted—I wish to state that I lost the use of my left arm from my shoulder to the end of my fingers by a stroke of palsy I could not raise my hand or arm from my side and was fearful that there was no cure for me My friends at the Dalles advised me to visit Portland and place myself under the care of Dr Aborn I arrived in Portland last evening by the Dalles boat and immediately called at Dr Aborn's office and made my case known The Doctor commenced treatment at once and in ten minutes time, to my great surprise and joy, he performed a complete cure so that I now have the use of my arm hand and fingers and can raise my arm up over my head with as much ease as I can raise my right arm This certainly is a very remarkable cure, and in my estimation speaks volumes to the skill of Dr Aborn I am stopping at the American Exchange Hotel, and will leave on the boat to-morrow for home I am a stock raiser and reside at Willow creek Wasco county Oregon, eighty miles south of the Dalles WM BUDEN

What Spring Brings With It.
Regarded from a medical stand point Spring is not the delectable season described by vernal poets On the contrary, its yield of intermittent fevers billious attacks rheumatic pains, disorders of the stomach, nervous complaints, and pulmonary diseases is almost as large as its crop of violets, snow drops and cherry blossoms. The invisible seeds of innumerable maladies rise with the morning mists and are sent broadcast by the vapors of night. Who can resist their sinister influence? Certainly not the weak by nature, or those whose nervous energies have been overtaxed by mental or physical labor unless they tone and invigorate their system, and thus enable them to cope with the unhealthy influences by which they are surrounded
The only medicinal agent by which this object can be rapidly and safely accomplished is the great vegetable restorant and invigorant Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The operation of this celebrated specific is four-fold It strengthens the digestive organs, regulates the secretions improves the condition of the blood and induces a regular habit of body and thereby imparts such vigor and elasticity to the whole physical structure as to render it capable of resisting the action of the poisonous miasma with which the spring atmosphere is always to some extent impregnated Here, then, is a ready and certain means of escaping the disorders prevalent at this season or (if they have already fastened upon the system) of conquering them speedily and thoroughly The flavor of a medicine is not of much consequence provided it does its work properly but of Hostetter's Bitters it may be fairly said that they effect a cure without enraging the patient's sense of taste

Alabama Claims

THE JUDGMENT OF CONTINENTAL EUROPE.

The press of continental Europe, with unexampled unanimity, sustains the American government in its claim to bring before the Geneva tribunal the dispute as to the construction of the treaty of Washington. Here are a few of many similar statements:

Neither in the course of the debates on the Joint High Commission, which sat for two months, nor in any of the clauses of the treaty intended to define the mode of the proceedings and the functions of the tribunal of arbitration, as well as the principles to guide it in its decision, has England raised the least objection against any of the clauses of reclamations presented by the United States. She has rejected all in the same way, without making any distinction, and has declared herself ready to the decision of a tribunal.—Memorial Diplomatique (Paris.)

The fact is that the pretensions of America were perfectly well known. Mr Gladstone, with his habitual want of foresight, counted upon luck to relieve him from the embarrassments in which the future might entangle him.—Gazette de France, (Paris.)

We can say, without separating ourselves from the truth, that there is no inconvenience in submitting the American claims for indirect damages to the tribunal of arbitration at Geneva. No one doubts that they are exaggerated in the American case; but their introduction into the pleading is not contrary to the text of the convention of Washington.—Moniteur, (Paris.)

The text of the treaty is formal, and the protocols leave less doubt than the treaty as to the understanding the claims and the principle by the United States. The tribunal will decide what claims are presentable, and what are the questions to be discussed. The American government demands neither more nor less. It has stated its claims before the court, and awaits the decision. England had better do the same. Her irritation is that of a bad pleader who doubts his own right and the impartiality of the Court.—Journal de Paris.

It is our opinion, given with the utmost impartiality, that there are wrongs on both sides. The government of the United States attempts to introduce into international law an unacceptable doctrine, that of making the costs of war obligatory upon the powers which are not responsible for it, and which are even the first victims of it in their interests. We understand very well that it is not necessary to take in earnest the [illegible] claims presented by the Alabama for the prolongation of the war, for the increase of rates of insurance, and other [illegible] elastic and equally impossible to calculate; claims which exceed the amount we owe to a victorious foe. The Americans understand perfectly the value of these claims, and have not the slightest idea of pressing them. But, at the same time, they insist, and with a show of reason, upon their right to interpret the treaty, and it must be acknowledged that the English government has entered upon this affair with a degree of imprudence and of levity which may soon [illegible] upon it, and produce a change of Ministry.—Journal des Debats, (Paris.)

Does this treaty authorize the American Government to submit to the tribunal at Geneva the claim for indemnity for indirect damages? The Americans say yes; the English say no. Impartial persons say that the clause in the treaty does not exclude the American interpretation, and therefore they are of the opinion that the difference ought to be brought before the tribunal. The refusal of England to accept arbitration on all the American demands implies a doubt either in the justice of her cause, or in the impartiality of the arbitrators.—Constitutionnel (Paris).

The wisest course to adopt is to abide by the decision of the Geneva arbitration. It is distinctly stipulated in the matter, and it can thus reestablish harmony and peace between the parties better than the parties themselves.—Independence Belge.

If this tribunal is incompetent to decide without the advice of the newspapers whether or not the American demands are preposterous and absurd, then its appointment was a mistake. It is, however, not to be supposed that such one-sided and ill-timed agitation will exert any influence upon it.—Buster Nachrichten.

The treaty justifies in a formal manner the tribunal at Geneva, in which, as we know, Switzerland is represented by M. Stampfli, in considering all the claims, of whatever kind, growing out of the acts of the cruisers. The question is only to know to what point the tribunal will admit these claims, and if England will abide by its decision.—Berner Heletie.

The N. Y. Tribune, led by national pride and governed by popular opinion, have changed their entire opinion of the question, and put matters in such a light that all that remains for the tribunal to do is to return home. The Washington treaty expressly states in regard to the tribunal that they settle all claims, and supports the American position. Why England acts thus we do not see. Probably she thinks that the tribunal is about to give judgment against her.—Vienna Neue Freie Presse.

England knew that demands were made not only for the acts of the vessels, but also for indirect losses. One treaty, as she knew, had been rejected because it had no provision as to this. If the Joint Commissioners had meant to exclude these claims they might have used language clearly stating it, but on the contrary, the language is such as to include them.—Americanischer Economist.

The general European tone is one of warning to England not to break the treaty. What if America has let the affair slumber until Russia has involved herself. Can not the people on the Thames see how strong the ties between America and Russia must be, when the insult to the Russian Minister not only has not broken, but has not even loosened these ties? If this is behind the Alabama question, the Government at the Foreign Office must bestir itself.—Neue Badische Leads Zeitung.

The San Juan Boundary Question.

TEXT OF THE INTRODUCTION TO THE AMERICAN CASE.

The following is the introduction to the American case in the San Juan question prepared and presented by Minister Bancroft, to the Arbitrator, the Emperor of Germany. The English case has been presented in French; the American, on the other hand, in German:

The Treaty, the disputed interpretation of which is submitted to your Majesty's decision, was concluded more than a quarter of a century ago. Of the sixteen members of the British Cabinet who drew it up and submitted it to the United States for acceptance, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Aberdeen, and all the others, with a single exception, are now no more. The British Minister at Washington who signed it is dead. Of the American statesmen who took part in the negotiations, the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of State, and all the Constitutional advisers of the President, except one, are deceased. I alone remain, and after completing more than 70 years, the term assigned to the duration of human life by Holy Writ, I have been selected by my country to maintain its rights intact. On six different occasions have the United States received an offer of a settlement by arbitration respecting their northwestern boundary, and six times have they declined to subject themselves to such a decision in a case in which the importance of the object in dispute is so great and the rights of it so clear. But when an agreement had been effected to bring the question before your Majesty, my country resolved on changing its course of action. We are now willing in the heart of Europe to demonstrate before a tribunal from which no other than a just judgment can proceed how well founded have been our claims and how completely our guiding principles have been those of moderation and of justice. The case in dispute comprises within itself questions of geography, history, and international law, and we regard it as fortunate that the investigation of these questions is to take place in the midst of a nation whose sons have been educated in the sciences by a Carl Ritter, a Ranke and a Heffter. The long protracted dispute has tended toward the alienation of two of the greatest powers on the earth, and, though perhaps remotely, has threatened to lead to a contest of arms. A want of confidence in the sentiments of the British Government has taken possession of men's feelings in those States of the Union which are now springing up on the coast of the Pacific ocean, and might grow into a popular conviction which it would be difficult to eradicate. In the meantime Your Majesty has secured for the German people a unity and a peace and height of prosperity which never before have been allotted by Providence to a German warrior and statesman. Would it not be the crown of the fame of the German Emperor if in the fullness of his years and the repose succeeding the mighty struggles of an eventful life, he were to reconcile the two younger branches of the great Germanic family of nations?

The steamship California, for Victoria and Sound ports, will leave Wednesday.

The steamship Guiding Telfair, for Biths, is announced to leave April 1st.

Mail advices, per Oriflamme, confirm previous reports that the barkentine Amelia was on the berth in San Francisco for this place. It was expected she would sail to-morrow. The Melancthon would follow, to be succeeded in turn by the Orient, which will be followed by the Wehfoot.

The brig Brewster sailed from San Francisco, bound up, March 16th. She is due here about the 1st of the week. We give a copy of her manifest below.

By politeness of Messrs. Knapp, Burrell & Co. we are placed in possession of the new schedule freight tariff by sailing vessels from San Francisco up:

	Per ton.
Powder and Acids	$10 00
Coal Oil and Syrup	5 00
Castings, Glass and Chinaware	5 00
Iron, Coal, Paints and Oils	4 00
Groceries and Hardware	4 00
Agricultural Implements and Furniture	3 50
Doors and Window Sash	3 50
Boots, per ton of 1,000 lbs	3 50
Hay, per ton of 1,000 lbs	3 50
Wines, Liquors and Tobacco	3 50
Wool, (in bales)	3 00
Bricks, Lime and Piles, per bbl	50

Last mail advices from New York state that there is a growing scarcity of sail tonnage for San Francisco. This is in consequence of the pretensions of owners of sail vessels being raised, owing to the improvement in freight offering to China, Australia and South American ports, and also that there are but few desirable vessels due for some time at New York.

The shipments by sail from New York to San Francisco (which of course include invoices to our market) continue free. For the week ending March 6th there were shipped from New York, by sail, 10,000 cases Devoe's Coal Oil, and 5,000 cases other brands. Owing to the Nail manufacturers being unable to deliver Nails as fast as desired, the shipments are not as free as would otherwise be.

New York advices state that overland freight is increasing in volume. All the lines running west, in contracting with shippers, do not guarantee time.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—Private advices from San Francisco received by the Oriflamme gave a dull market ruling in San Francisco and they also concur in giving the charter rates at $2 7½ to $2 10 with very little doing. We are not advised of any transactions to-day; although several lots have been offered with no takers.

FLOUR—Several orders are on the market from Sound ports which will be filled by the outgoing steamship California. Advices from Victoria give a dull market for all articles that have the tariff rate of 40 per cent. includes Flour. Market is [illegible] lots at $6 ₱ bbl for extra of standard brands; $5 50 for choice country; middle and superfine $5@5 25.

OATS—As will be seen by the new schedule per sail as given above the freight tariff from San Francisco up is 22c per 100 pounds, drayage and wharfage in San Francisco and here 10c per cental; total 32c per 100 pounds delivered at the store.

POTATOES—For choice white California a large supply of Sound was received. The market of these desirable Potatoes is nearly bare. They are held at 1¼c per ₱. Jobbing at 1¾c per pound.

EGGS—Market active at 22c per dozen.

LARD—The Oriflamme brought up several lots which meet with quick sale at current rates.

BUTTER—Several lots of prime were received by the Oriflamme which is sold in jobbing lots at 35c per pound for 2-lb rolls.

General Merchandise.

COFFEE—The action of the ₱ 15c in placing Coffee on the free list, to take effect July 1st, will without doubt be creditable to by the House. What effect this will have is immaterial at present to perceive, but prices will not advance as yet.

TEA—The placing of Tea on the free list will cause prices to recede, which will be more apparent after the tariff goes into effect, 1st of July.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—Gay's plow, Pfel patent, $60; Sulky, $80; Eureka, $80, Buckeye Grain Drill, 9-hoe, $120; 10-hoe, $125. Wing-Dams--Willamette River, Oregon.

U. S. Engineer Office.

PORTLAND, OREGON, February 10, 1872.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT this Office until 10 A. M. on May 1, 1872 (when they will be opened in the presence of bidders), for building about 2,000 feet of Wing dams on the Upper Willamette River.

Bidders will state the amount in U. S. Currency for which they will construct the Dams, per lineal foot.

Detailed Specifications, with blank forms for proposal, can be obtained at this office.

The amount available for the work is about $4,000, U. S. Currency, and the Dams are to be built at Yamhill Bar, Beaver and Lone Tree Rapids, Chitwood Bar, Humphrey's Rapid, and Bower's Bar.

The Dams will consist of logs laid on the river and the entire length of the Dam, fastened by drift bolts to small piles driven to a depth of five or six feet, the piles being fifteen feet apart. This is to be covered by a one-foot layer of brush tied into bundles and covered with a cubic yard of gravel to every ten feet of Dam.

Bids must be in triplicate, on forms furnished from this office, and endorsed, "Proposals for Wing-dams, Willamette River."

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
